How to Use This Workbook

Open to the correct week and day. Every day contains four clearly labeled activities written for grades 4-6.

1. READ WITH MRS. BEAR & CLAUDIA

Read the original story and answer the questions.

2. MATH CONNECTION

Complete the leveled practice and themed word problem.

3. COLOR & CREATE

Color the lesson-plan scene and follow the creative challenge.

4. WRITE OR WORD SEARCH

Alternate between written reflection and theme vocabulary.

Teachers may assign all four pages, choose two, or use the pages as centers and extension options.

Back-to-Back Teamwork

A Mrs. Bear & Claudia Story

When Claudia entered the activity room, Mrs. Bear had already prepared the group for cooperative stand up. Claudia expected the task to be simple, yet Claudia and her partner tipped sideways because they moved at different times. Her first reaction was to hurry, but that made the challenge harder.

Mrs. Bear asked Claudia to pause and study what was happening. Claudia listened to her teammates and proposed that they count to three, press their backs together, and move slowly. The group tested the idea, noticed what needed adjustment, and tried again with greater care.

This time, they stood up and invited another pair to join. Claudia realized that success did not come from one person taking control. It came from observation, respectful communication, and a shared plan. Mrs. Bear introduced the word cooperate and invited everyone to explain how it connected to the experience.

Before leaving, Claudia wrote one sentence in the class reflection book: "Today I learned that cooperation works when everyone listens and moves together."

Claudia Helps a Fish Friend

A Mrs. Bear & Claudia Story

When Claudia entered the classroom reading rug, Mrs. Bear had already prepared the group for pout-pout fish and bullying. Claudia expected the task to be simple, yet Claudia noticed that a classmate was being left out and teased. Her first reaction was to hurry, but that made the challenge harder.

Mrs. Bear asked Claudia to pause and study what was happening. Claudia listened to her teammates and proposed that they use a kind voice, invite the child to join, and tell a trusted adult. The group tested the idea, noticed what needed adjustment, and tried again with greater care.

This time, the classmate joined the fish craft and smiled. Claudia realized that success did not come from one person taking control. It came from observation, respectful communication, and a shared plan. Mrs. Bear introduced the word bystander and invited everyone to explain how it connected to the experience.

Before leaving, Claudia wrote one sentence in the class reflection book: "Today I learned that kind bystanders can help stop bullying."

The Silent Color Team

A Mrs. Bear & Claudia Story

When Claudia entered the school-age classroom, Mrs. Bear had already prepared the group for seeing spots: silent teamwork. Claudia expected the task to be simple, yet Claudia had to find her color team without speaking. Her first reaction was to hurry, but that made the challenge harder.

Mrs. Bear asked Claudia to pause and study what was happening. Claudia listened to her teammates and proposed that they watch faces, point gently, and use helpful gestures. The group tested the idea, noticed what needed adjustment, and tried again with greater care.

This time, every student found the correct team. Claudia realized that success did not come from one person taking control. It came from observation, respectful communication, and a shared plan. Mrs. Bear introduced the word gesture and invited everyone to explain how it connected to the experience.

The Straw Circle

A Mrs. Bear & Claudia Story

When Claudia entered the multipurpose room, Mrs. Bear had already prepared the group for straw challenge. Claudia expected the task to be simple, yet the straws fell whenever one person rushed. Her first reaction was to hurry, but that made the challenge harder.

Mrs. Bear asked Claudia to pause and study what was happening. Claudia listened to her teammates and proposed that they keep gentle pressure, watch neighbors, and move at the same speed. The group tested the idea, noticed what needed adjustment, and tried again with greater care.

This time, the whole circle turned without dropping a straw. Claudia realized that success did not come from one person taking control. It came from observation, respectful communication, and a shared plan. Mrs. Bear introduced the word coordinate and invited everyone to explain how it connected to the experience.

Before leaving, Claudia wrote one sentence in the class reflection book: "Today I learned that coordination requires patience and awareness."

The Silliest Hair Day

A Mrs. Bear & Claudia Story

When Claudia entered the art room, Mrs. Bear had already prepared the group for read: today i feel silly. Claudia expected the task to be simple, yet Claudia worried that classmates might laugh at her unusual design. Her first reaction was to hurry, but that made the challenge harder.

Mrs. Bear asked Claudia to pause and study what was happening. Claudia listened to her teammates and proposed that they Mrs. Bear explained the difference between laughing with someone and laughing at someone. The group tested the idea, noticed what needed adjustment, and tried again with greater care.

This time, everyone shared playful designs respectfully. Claudia realized that success did not come from one person taking control. It came from observation, respectful communication, and a shared plan. Mrs. Bear introduced the word respectful and invited everyone to explain how it connected to the experience.

Before leaving, Claudia wrote one sentence in the class reflection book: "Today I learned that humor is kind when everyone feels safe and included."

The Feeling-Face Cafe

A Mrs. Bear & Claudia Story

When Claudia entered the classroom cafe, Mrs. Bear had already prepared the group for review feelings. Claudia expected the task to be simple, yet Claudia had to match feeling faces with everyday situations. Her first reaction was to hurry, but that made the challenge harder.

Mrs. Bear asked Claudia to pause and study what was happening. Claudia listened to her teammates and proposed that they look at eyes, mouths, body clues, and context. The group tested the idea, noticed what needed adjustment, and tried again with greater care.

This time, she explained several possible feelings instead of guessing only one. Claudia realized that success did not come from one person taking control. It came from observation, respectful communication, and a shared plan. Mrs. Bear introduced the word empathy and invited everyone to explain how it connected to the experience.

Before leaving, Claudia wrote one sentence in the class reflection book: "Today I learned that empathy grows when we consider more than one possibility."
