TODDLER ADAPTATION NOTE — LETTER C

Ones is a toddler classroom (roughly 12–24 months), and the real Ones Instructions/Take-Home/Resources materials for this month contain zero pencil-tracing content anywhere — everything is paint, glue, and sensory play. Because of that, Letter C is NOT presented as a multi-step pencil-tracing worksheet (the kind used in the Twos/Threes classrooms). Instead, the real ASL alphabet poster is used as-is: one big, simple block letter, a matching picture, and the hand sign — designed for pointing, naming, and finger-signing, which fits this age band's actual pre-writing stage. No "Find the Letter" recognition-practice bonus page is included for the same reason (that pamphlet is for children who can already visually scan a busy grid, a skill toddlers this age don't yet have).

- Music & Movement: The Body Rock
- Reading / Literacy: Sheep Go to Sleep
- Health & Fitness: Run and Race

TEACHER-GUIDED CRAFT

Sheep Mask

Materials: Paper plate with center cut out, craft stick, glue, cotton balls, pre-cut ears

Also offered today: talk about how sheep's wool gives us cotton to make clothes; show real yarn

- Cut a hole in the middle of a paper plate and attach a craft stick handle.
- Let the child paint the plate's rim with glue using a paint brush.
- Add pre-cut ears, then stick on cotton balls all around the rim.

WHAT IT SHOULD LOOK LIKE
